

Acta Cryst. (1986). C42, 1670

Commission on Journals
Use of Telegraphic Language

The Commission on Journals is pleased to announce that the use of telegraphic language to conserve space in Section C of Acta Crystallographica is no longer necessary in view of the improved financial situation of the IUCr. All papers should continue to present as high a density of information as possible, consistent with clarity, in readily understandable, crisply constructed and grammatically correct language.